

Margie Renfrow Student Support Fund

Description:

This support fund benefits graduate students at UT Dallas majoring in physics in the School of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. Awards include, but are not limited to, scholarships, awards for achievement in their program, or other expenses that are related to their studies. Since participating in conferences is essential to the career development of graduate students, a travel award to the student can be used for this purpose as the primary use of the funds. The student support fund will be awarded on a competitive basis by a committee duly appointed by the Head of the Physics program at UT Dallas. Only current UT Dallas students or transfers may apply for this award.
